

just arriving

coming and going

many wide doors all in a row surrounded by tall fences plywood slowly warping and baking hands and legs and arms, back, knees

gold lamé patterned wallpaper in one of the bathrooms

The walls of my studio were yellow

I put a beige tarp on the floor

There was a _____ in my studio that I don't remember ever using.

club music

so close to the ceiling screened in porch

wicker sofas

Dish-soap

glass-topped

Arranging my clothes in the dresser drawers.

A bottle of Hermes cologne, proudly set on top.

Carefully placing my materials on the desk.

balsa wood

colored pencil and mirrored on a slant

There was, but not the one that I used in proximity –on a low stage in the same space

in front of back rooms

Projection screens

large shadows

The back of the house was the front of the house
